

Manager of the Program for Cross-cutting Coordination of Agriculture Natural Resource Management and Climate Change Headquarters

Cárdenas, Gustavo
PPI

Holds Master's degree in Business Administration (Universidad Autonoma de Guadalajara, Mexico) and undergraduate degree in Agronomy (Escuela Nacional de Agricultura, now Universidad Autonoma de Chapingo, Mexico). Has 34 years' work experience. Has prepared programs aimed at conserving, restoring and protecting natural resources in their ecosystems, and environmental protection programs focused on climate change. Has taught in the areas of Natural Resource Conservation and Restoration, Forestry Engineering and Environmental Protection. Has authored numerous publications. Joined IICA in 2008.

gustavo.cardenas@iica.int

Specialist in Natural Resources and Environment Headquarters

Cárdenas, Jeanette
PPL

Holds Master's degree in Ecological Agriculture, Plant Genetic Resources and Biotechnology (CATIE) and undergraduate degree in Agronomy (Universidad Nacional Experimental del Tachira, Venezuela). Has more than 15 years' work experience and is known for her ability to conduct research in regional projects on natural resources, environment, water and soils. Has served as advisor on scientific documents and provided support to producers and agribusinesses in the sustainable management of crops based on an ecosystems approach. In addition, has broad experience in capacity building and knowledge management in the areas of environmental sustainability and climate change. Joined IICA in 2008.

jeanette.cardenas@iica.int

IICA Representative in Saint Lucia and the Eastern Caribbean States Saint Lucia

Gordon, Una May
PPI

Holds Master's degree in Environmental Sciences (Wageningen Agricultural University, Holland) and Bachelor's degree in Agronomy (University of the West Indies, Trinidad and Tobago). Has more than 30 years' professional experience in the agricultural sector of the Caribbean, specifically in production of leguminous plants, programs for small-scale enterprises and projects for small-scale farmers. Has participated in the preparation of projects for the government of Jamaica in the areas of biodiversity and climate change. Joined IICA in 2000, initially as a local professional and, as of 2003, as an international professional.

una.may.gordon@iica.int

Thermil, Alain
PPL

Specialist in Projects

Haiti

Holds Master's degree in Management of Natural Resources and the Environment (Ball State University, USA) and Bachelor's degree in Agriculture and Environment (Quisqueya University, Haiti). Has nine years' professional experience as Technical Coordinator in Project Management and Evaluation and as a consultant in the areas of environment and project evaluation. Has authored five publications, spoken at conferences and conducted studies in his area of expertise. Has worked on projects with the European Economic Community and IFAD. Joined IICA in 2009.

alain.thermil@iica.int